THECLUB 'CODE OF CONDUCT'

We endeavour to provide a comfortable, exciting and enjoyable experience at each of our events. In line with TheClub's principles, we require all members to represent themselves and TheClub in line with the following Code of Conduct.

1. Each member is to conduct themselves in an appropriate and respectful way towards other members, non-member event guests and staff at each event.
2. Each guest is requested to follow the dress code guidelines for each event. Event staff have the right to refuse entry or participation to anyone they deem not suitably attired.
3. Members are personally responsible for ensuring their guests behave in an appropriate and respectful manner and abide by TheClub standards. This includes excessive alcohol consumption, inappropriate language and abusive behaviour. Guests will not be allowed if we are not confident this is possible.
4. We request the discreet use of mobile phones at all events, and kindly ask that ringtones are set to vibrate or silent at most events (this may be relaxed at certain events). Taking or receiving telephone calls at dining tables is not permitted.
5. We encourage the taking of photographs to capture experiences and are happy for these to be shared on social media. However, please be respectful to both other TheClub members and TheClub itself, ensuring all images are appropriate. We will ask for any social media post to be removed if they are deemed to cause offence or embarrassment.
6. Members are requested to respect the privacy of other members and guests. We expect discretion at all times. Every member is equally important to us, so we want and will strive to ensure that all guests feel comfortable and relaxed on all occasions.
7. What is or is not deemed as appropriate, suitable, acceptable, or respectful is at the discretion of TheClub.
